This report summarizes summer pursuits of Wharton undergraduates between sophomore and junior year. Student responses were collected using an online survey. Of the 675 Wharton students scheduled to graduate during the 2015 – 2016 academic year, 278 completed the survey (41.2% response rate). Of those, 256 students (92.1%) indicated whether their primary summer activity was full-time employment, part-time employment, or other activities (22 students did not indicate hours worked).

Job Functions of Wharton Interns

Students worked in a variety of job functions. Similar to last year, many had positions in financial services including investment banking, securities research, private equity, venture capital, investment management, non-banking financial analysis, and sales & trading. Marketing (10.7%) continued to be popular, more students secured consulting internships (8.5%) than last summer and several members of the class opted for information technology roles (5.1%).

Chart is based on data from both full-time and part-time positions.*

Primary Summer Experience

Over 91% of Wharton juniors participated in an internship during the 2014 summer as their primary summer experience – similar to last year. Other Wharton juniors pursued other activities such as classes, travel or independent research.

How Students Obtained Internships

Most students landed their internships by either applying directly to the organization or leveraging contacts. Non-OCR Career Services leads helped approximately 10% of Wharton juniors obtain internships during summer 2014. On-Campus Recruiting helped 11.2% land summer opportunities – almost exactly the same percentage as the previous year.
