

WHARTON UNDERGRADUATE CLASS OF 2010 SUMMER EMPLOYMENT REPORT

Student responses were collected using an online survey. Of the 661 Wharton seniors scheduled to graduate during the 2009 - 2010 academic year, 306 completed the survey (46.3% response rate). Of those, 304 students indicated whether they were full-time employed, part-time employed, or participating in other activities.

Industries Employing Wharton Interns

The internship search was particularly challenging for the Class of 2010 as the recession was in full force. Although most students landed paid internships, a larger percentage than in the past few years pursued unpaid or part-time internships or other activities such as classes or travel.

Students continued to intern in a wide variety of industries. Fewer worked in investment banking, while more accepted opportunities in the public and nonprofit sectors, technology, and real estate areas.

How Students Obtained Internships

As in the past, the majority of students landed their internships through the On-Campus Recruiting program (45.7%) or other Career Services leads (10.9%). However, the recession led more students to diversify their internship search strategies, relying more heavily on networking and contacts than in previous years. Students also found that applying directly to organizations was a useful tactic.
