

Wharton Undergraduate Class of 2011 Career Plans Survey Report

	2011
Number of Degrees Awarded	676
Number of Completed Surveys	600
Response Rate	88.8%

SUMMARY OF POST-GRADUATION PLANS

This report summarizes responses from December 2010 and May/August 2011 Wharton Bachelor of Science in Economics degree recipients.

Even though the national unemployment rate remained stubbornly high during the 2010-2011 academic year, the Wharton students fared extremely well in their job and graduate school searches. Most students (89.5%) entered the working world, while another 5.6 pursued further education. The average base salary rose significantly to $66,412, nearly $3,000 more than the average salary for the Class of 2010.

JOB FUNCTIONS OF WHARTON GRADUATES

The Class of 2011 entered a wide range of job functions upon graduation with investment banking, consulting, sales and trading, investment management and marketing/sales being top areas of interest for our students.

Large employers such as Goldman Sachs, Citi, Morgan Stanley, J.P. Morgan, Boston Consulting Group and McKinsey hired the greatest number of Wharton graduates. However, students accepted employment in smaller numbers with a wide range of other employers including Abercrombie & Fitch, Kraft Foods, Google, L'Oreal, Prophet, PepsiCo and Teach for America.

METHODOLOGY

Students were asked via several e-mail requests during Spring 2011 to complete an online version of the Career Plans Survey. Follow-up emails/surveys were sent in July, September, and October 2011 to those students who had not responded or had previously indicated they were “still seeking.” A total of 600 surveys were returned, resulting in an 88.8% response rate.
