

JOB SEARCH SERIES

Presented by the Graduate Student and Postdoc Advising Team

CAREER MANAGEMENT WORKSHOPS

SPRING 2019

The following workshops are part of the Job Search Series, designed to help you learn the skills you need to succeed through the entire job search process. Workshops in this series are for all PhD students, postdocs, and Master's students. Individual workshops provide helpful resources, advice and information. Participating in any of these workshops will provide you with tools to develop career readiness competencies that will be valuable as you progress from the academic environment to your professional life, including:

- Building personal and professional development strategies and goals
- Identifying and expressing your values, skills, and strengths
- Taking necessary steps to find and pursue opportunities

For more information on Career Readiness Competencies, see: www.vpul.upenn.edu/careerservices/careerdevelopment
Signups are not required to attend, just bring your PennCard with you to be admitted to these events.
