The care package delivery service at the University of Pennsylvania is completely student run and has been for over 15 years. It gives parents a way to show their students they are thinking of them. We now offer Deluxe care package options for the Standard, Nut-Free, and Gluten-Free care packages. You can order online or submit the mail-in order form arriving to your home address.

Please note that due to COVID-19, all care package orders for the Fall 2020 semester will be directed shipped to student mailrooms, rather than hand-delivered to student doors as residential housing restrictions will not allow us to deliver to dorms. The packages will still arrive in a timely manner to students either shortly before or on the given holiday. For off-campus delivery, please select ‘Residential Delivery’ when checking out.

Don’t want other people messing with your clothes in the congested laundry rooms? Are you too busy living your college life and can’t be bogged down by laundry? Well, let firstServices do it for you! Simply choose your preferred pickup day(s) and leave your firstServices laundry bag outside of your door by 9:00 am. We’ll pick it up, wash it, and return it to you the very next day! Our laundry services are a great way to stay safe during this COVID-19 pandemic.

We will pick it up and return it to you clean a mere two days later. Our allowance system allows us to deduct the cost of your dry cleaning from your balance each time you request a pickup, so you don’t have to worry about each individual payment!

Stay hydrated by signing up for one of our water plans! With delivery right to your door, there is no need to worry about lugging a 24-pack all the way back to your dorm. These customers will receive a hot and cold tabletop water dispenser, perfect for dorms, and a constant supply of 3-gallon jugs throughout the semester!

PSA Bartending trains and employs Penn students to bartend at events and bars within the Philadelphia area. Each semester we offer two courses at a low price to give students the chance to learn all about bartending and mixology!

We currently offer two types of courses to the Penn community. The first is a course on mixology basics. The second course is a TiPS/ Ramp certification class, an industry-leading standard in alcohol education and safety training.

Each semester, PSA Bartending selects a few students interested in professional bartending to join our staff. Prospective applicants must fulfill two conditions before signing their official hire letter. These conditions may be met at any point during the hiring process:
- Possession or intention to apply for a valid TiPS/ Ramp certification, which can be granted through our TiPS seminar.
- Demonstration of mixology experience through a passing score on our bartending knowledge exam. Candidates can best prepare by taking a mixology course or having previous bartending experience. More information regarding the exam can be found on our website.

No experience is required for application. However, a conditional hire may be offered until the candidate fulfills the previous two conditions. Eligible candidates must be 18 years of age at the time of application.

PSA Bartenders have worked at events like:
- Receptions at the Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts
- The Wine Walk, Penn School of Design
- Receptions for the Center for East Asian Studies

- Cocktail parties at the Philadelphia Magic Gardens

DEVIN SCHAIN
College of Arts & Sciences 1988 // Campus Carpets

Devin Schain is a serial entrepreneur who has successfully started and sold four companies and has invested in more than 40 start-ups and early stage businesses. Currently, Devin is Founder and CEO of Student Playbook which works with the incoming and graduating students. Devin is also the Executive Chairman of T-Worx Technologies, a product innovation company that developed the Intelligent-Rail Platform, a patented platform technology that communicates data from armaments and accessories to command centers.

Devin has more than 30 years in numerous entrepreneurial ventures. As a sophomore at The University of Pennsylvania, Devin launched On Campus Marketing (OCM.) He sold OCM after building it to the point where it was working with 1,100 colleges and became a public company. Educational Direct, another company that Devin founded, became the leading consolidator of student loans on the internet before being sold in 2006 to the private equity firm Providence Equity Partners for $375,000,000. Schain is active in the Young Presidents’ Organization (YPO) and also founded Campus MD/Access Health Group and Campus Direct.

In addition to being a serial entrepreneur, Devin is a dedicated philanthropist: he founded ShalomLearning and The Social Sector of Scaling Up. He is married with three children and lives in the Washington DC area.

“I enjoyed starting my first company my sophomore year at Penn. I sold carpet to the parents of incoming first-years during the move- in period in front of The Quad. By the time I graduated, I was doing this carpet program at 22 colleges. My first client was the Penn Student Agency which endorsed the carpet program. Over the next 20 years, I added the extra long linen program and care package program. When I sold the business in 2000, my company OCM was in over 1,000 colleges and universities and still works with PSA Today.

I started my new company Student Playbook whose core purpose is to equip students with life skills that will enable them to thrive in college and beyond. I am excited to be working with PSA again 20 years later on our new Program called Freshman Tribute which celebrates the incoming first-years with a video montage from friends and family. Finally, I am a proud Alum of my son who is a rising sophomore at Penn and a member of the Varsity Lacrosse Team.

I have learned a tremendous amount from my education at Penn, the contacts and resources that I gained as well!”

SHELBY BARLOW
College of Arts & Sciences 2018 // PSA Executive Suite

Shelby Barlow graduated from Penn in May 2018 and began her PSA career as a Customer Service Representative at Quaker Corner. During her junior year, she was promoted to Human Resources Manager (now the Executive Vice President of Operations) as part of the PSA Executive Suite Leadership Team, and continued in that role until she graduated. She is now working as a Learning and Development Specialist at VMware, Inc. in Palo Alto, California.

“When I stepped into the HR Manager role, there was a lot of work to be done. We were still filing physical paperwork, which was stored in random areas around the office, and some businesses were even using physical time cards that I would have to pick up each weekend. None of the other PSA managers or employees understood my job well or took it seriously - many of them did not even take their own jobs seriously - which made it extremely challenging to enforce necessary policies.

These obstacles informed my top priorities in my tenure at PSA, which were to establish legitimacy in my role and to create a shared culture that would inspire employees to give their best. I did away with physical timecards and paperwork, taking us completely digital and into the 21st century. Building out the HR Manager role at PSA was one of the highlights of my college experience. I loved the role so much that I pursued a career in Human Resources.”
