Welcome to Penn and to Philadelphia. We know that your years here will be filled with new and exciting experiences, both within and outside the classroom. Your health and wellbeing are essential to your academic success, and the Student Health Service is committed to keeping you healthy and fit during your time at school.

The Student Health Service is dedicated to serving students. We offer accessible and affordable care, with services designed to meet student needs. In addition to the clinical services that we offer, we work in close collaboration with the other health and wellness departments in the University Life Division, and with our colleagues in the University of Pennsylvania Health System. We also coordinate public health programs and activities for University students, administer the University’s immunization and insurance requirements, and support the academic mission of the University through teaching, mentoring, and research.

We continually assess our programs and services to make sure that we meet your expectations. Our accreditation since 1990 by the Joint Commission means that we meet rigorous standards for healthcare delivery. Achieving accreditation demonstrates our commitment as an organization to provide quality care on an ongoing basis. We also look to the Student Health Advisory Board and the Student Health Insurance Advisory Committee for ongoing feedback to make sure that we are meeting your needs and concerns.

Your health is important to you, and to us. We look forward to keeping you healthy during your years at Penn.
